"I was impressed with the turnout you had at last weekend's "Party in the Park" event. I had no doubt it would be a success when I kept seeing signs all over the place. Neighborhood streets, busy intersections, store windows and even flyers that came home with kids from school. You truly had something for everyone to enjoy that day. Live music, an impressive play zone for kids, food, drinks and great shopping. The atmosphere was happy and there was a real sense of community among the tremendous sea of people."
